- No substitute
teaching calls;
spend much of the
day at my desk
doing revision &
addition to the Second Edition of PN-I
very productive
day indeed.

Went into town in late afternoon & stopped at the CPL; attended city Council meeting; picked a huge bag of acorns from under the oak tree by city Hall. I will use them for Christmas decorations.

The ball has begun to roll at last. I have been "called" to CHNS to substitute for Marie Hornbeck. Again, I shall be teaching Spanish (plus Italian) and I am not really proficient in both languages. The CHNS/Hornbeck call came at about 2 P.M. on Monday afternoon as I sat in my car parked on the Second Edition of FN-1. I was, of course, extremely pleased at the call. I spent the morning and night and I must say that I am feeling good about the prospect that I am making in that regard. The Marie Hornbeck teaching assignment was effortless. There was one class, 70 period, in which there are a fair number of what can only be described as poor white trash--unbelievably common/vulgar/noncivilized/belligerent beings. Brassy, cross-cheewing, overly made-up girls, and Sheerly Gross would say, "bitchy" individuals who insist on sitting on the back of the bus, and who are so arrogant to have a well-defined schedule of being sick and absent--there are some substitutes who are at CHNS practically every day. Today I heard several members of the faculty say that it was getting to that point when they needed a day or two off, which is fine with me. When I returned from CHNS in the afternoon on Tuesday, I prepared myself, somewhat and said that I had had to withdraw for the evening because Marie was arriving at 9 P.M. on Tuesday. That telephone incident is so bizarre that I will give it special treatment on a separate sheet of paper. No, I will deal with it here. I received a telephone call from JVB at about 6:30 P.M. and he told me that FWM had called him at 9:10 A.M. at Allied Glass and that she said at that time that she would be calling him at 5 P.M. for an important reason, the 9 P.M. Short Line bus. I said that she was in the wrong area and that I would call her myself and said that I was not at the calling post at JVB, but at FWM for her stupidity. I am thinking that she could simply push into my world and impose herself on me. I dressed and went to the Golf Course and told HRP and WSP to be prepared for a possible telephone call/visit from FWM. I also relayed the same message to RRP/MSB and family. I then went into town and waited in my car across from the bus station, JVB parked his car and waited in my car. I returned at about 5:30 P.M. and FWM was waiting for me. Very little talking. I was as the arrival of FWM that evening--somehow JVB was convinced that I would be mad at him for being the bearer of such distressing news. We walked and waited. At 9:30 or so, FWM descended from the bus. I was icy, at best, in my greeting. I made it clear that I had nothing to say to her and that, after her visit was, at best, very awkward. I suggested that she go to Burger King and drink some coffee. John WFW and I had an intense 20 minute ride down during which time she made her position clear and I needed a great quantity of space and time around me at the present time in order to get my life together. I suggested that her visit was in fact over as soon as we had made our positions clear. At Burger King I said that I would drive her to a bus or hotel accommodations and that would be that. She had reached her bus and hotel. I stood there looking at her and she said, "I am going to Scarborough and been handled by bus stations--no more buses for NYC on Tuesday night." The next one was at 5:30 A.M. Before leaving JVB asked me to call him later in the night. I said I would, but since I did not get rid of FWM until after 4 A.M., it was not possible for me to call him. We returned (from Scranton) to Elkhart and I made tea and we talked for two or three hours and then at about 9:30 A.M., I drove FWM to the Water bus station. At about 5 A.M. I returned to Elkhart and went to bed. At 6:30 A.M., Paul Karbach telephoned and asked me to sub-for Mrs Ann Toss, and so on one town's sleep & now up and called forth -- a den was right behind the Palazzo Bonaparte when I went out last. Dinner -- and, as a reward, dancing, lake and high from telephone and asked if I could substitute for someone. I delivered my report and went into Cambridge.
